

I can only compare high tax's with high expenses in my budget - when I can no longer afford the usual expenses, my only choice is to make cuts, since I don't have extra money to cover higher costs. The teachers unions and state of ct. workers are out pacing the fixed income sector and forcing people to move out of the state they have lived in all of their lives. We keep pouring money into places where the return we get for our money is nominal at best. I'm sure you have heard this story before, it is however very much in people's minds when weighing the ability to stay in Ct.

Thanks
